

Cookie Policy

What are cookies. Cookies are small text files that the sites visited by users send to their terminals, where they are stored and then sent back to the same sites on subsequent visits.

Cookies used by the site www.fidaonline.com (the “Site”) and their purposes. The Site uses cookies which have the purpose of allowing the proper functioning of certain sections, for example to allow access to the reserved area of the site (“technical cookies”), to guarantee certain customisation features (“performance cookies”), to improve the browsing experience (“functional cookies”) and to help us make personalised offers of products that you may like (“marketing cookies”).

The first time you visit the Site, a banner will ask you to accept (or not accept) cookies. You can refuse to accept all or some cookies or you can change your computer settings or your cookie preferences, even later, so that you know when you receive cookies or in order to disable the automatic cookie acceptance function.

This Site uses the following categories of cookies:

- “Technical cookies” (or browsing cookies) which contribute to the functioning of the Site, for example allowing you to navigate between pages or to access the reserved area of the Site; the legal basis of the processing for the use of these cookies is the interest of Finanza Dati Analisi S.r.l. in providing its customers efficient and well-functioning services; these cookies are stored from the date of first access to the site until they are disabled.
- “Performance cookies” which allow the acquisition of statistical information in aggregate and anonymous form, in relation to browsing habits; the legal basis of the processing for the use of these cookies is the consent of the data subject; these cookies are stored from the date they are activated on the site until they are disabled. Users can accept or disable these cookies – as they wish – using the table below or the cookie management tool and related widget.
- “Functional cookies” which allow you to activate specific features of the Site and store your preferences (such as language), in order to improve your browsing experience; the legal basis of the processing for the use of these cookies is the consent of the data subject; these cookies are stored from the date on which they are activated on the site until they are disabled. Users can accept or disable these cookies – as they wish – using the table below or the cookie management tool and related widget.
